Renal & Clinical Dietitian Program

Marianne Hutton, RD, CSR, CDE, Program Chair
Aimee Jaremowicz, RD, LDN, Program Co-Chair

SCM10 offers a diverse menu of educational opportunities for all members of the medical and professional kidney health care team. The Meetings' focus on clinical practice in nephrology will include important "take home" messages for daily applications in your practice setting. Engage in stimulating sessions for new, non-renal, and advanced practice dietitians. Highlights include:

Diabetes Track Are you interested in learning more about diabetes and the impact on your patients with nutritional/diet adherence consequences? This track will explore diabetes on all CRRT modalities as well as after transplantation and kidney-pancreas transplantation. Other topics include: GI problems, obesity and diabetes, cardiovascular risk and early diabetic nephropathy.

Cooking Demonstration Get cooking with some great techniques taught by a chef! Topics covered in this live demo include: CKD, diabetes, and vegetarianism.

Vitamin D Interested in the latest on Vitamin D including it's autocrine role? World renowned experts will offer insights on this as well as on both the value and limitations of evidence-based research and nutrition guidelines.

Sodium & The New Dietary Guidelines Fire up your enthusiasm for implementing sodium restrictions for patients pre-ESRD! This session includes new information to help you work more effectively with people who require limits on sodium.

Pediatric and Adolescent Adherence Looking for some techniques to help with younger patient adherence? Explore the new KDOQI pediatric guidelines, pediatric SGA and unique nutrition and social considerations across a spectrum of ages.

Hot Topics Don't miss the latest information on MNT for CKD, clinical privileging, standards of performance and the new CMS guidelines, new research including FGF-23, Nutrigenomics, Bariatric Surgery and Obesity! Catch sessions on Nephrology Medications, Alternative Medicine: Meditation/Yoga, Herbs, and AKI and CKD.

Also, plan to attend our new Pre-conference Courses held Tuesday, April 13 – They offer something for all attendees.
